Flushing have been ordering new consignments of scenic type to keep pace with Mary Hayes. One day it would be MARY HAYES HIT BY BLACK HAND BRICK; then after a comfortable lapse the beadlines would leap into life again with MISS MARY HAYES THWARTS BRUTAL RUFFIAN. Also there have been the following legends that appeal to the melodramatic sense; KIDNAPPERS ON MARY'S TRACK.

"Miss Mary Hayes has confessed the perpertration of an astounding fraud pon the townsfelk of Flushing. have all been gulled by her. Leaving the home where she was employed at 1940. 307 Lincoln street, Miss Hayes springs upon us the confession that the invented all of the various tragedies that befel her, even to writing mime wave evidently hit Mary hard.

Aims, we believed her! In the vernacular we 'fell for her' with a dull, sickening thud. , The First Fairy Tale.

The First Fairy Tale.

"We recall with regret and some chagrin that only a few weeks age we printed a detailed story of hiw Miss. Hayes Battled hand to hand with a chirrian in her employer's home. All of the family silver was found in the kitchen carefully tied up in a bundle. There were evidences of a struggle in the dining room and kitchen. Furthersifore, Mary had a black eye to back up the fable. We admit that we were unfilled by this. Metaphorically we patted Mary on the back and said grood girl, Her employer adequately newarded her.

"Yet there was no burglar. Mary fied up the valuables in a bundle with her streams."

up the valuables in a bundle with her own hands. She blacked her own eye by tamping it with a flat iron. She discordered the furniture, and before the family came home from the seaside called us up on the telephone and stung the for a two-column notice.

Then there were the brick-throwing impidents. Miss Hayes brought the bricks to the family came home from the seaside called us up on the telephone and stung the for a two-column notice.

Then there were the brick-throwing impidents. Miss Hayes brought the bricks to the family came for a two-column notice.

Then there were the brick-throwing incidents. Miss Hayes brought the bricks to our office and took our reporter to the scene of the 'outrage. To our editor the young woman exhibited the scars made by said bricks, which some now learn were false. She made them herself by rubbes her head on a picket fence. Twice she did this, feach time producing different scratches cuts and bruless.

The was as overwhelmingly fooled as any of us, believing that his femme de chambre was the victim of many direful plots and outrages.

"But, after all, Mary, we are sorry to has you. You afforded us much enterment. We hope, nevertheless, that you will repent and learn to tell the truth. Judging from your ability in the other direction this will be a heroic task, but if you succeed you will be a greater heroine than you ever dopen yourself out to be."

And This Is Final!

The Clearance Selling of the Men's Clothing Winds Up This Week with a Terrific Price-Crash!

Beginning To-Morrow, Thursday, EVERYTHING IN THE CLOTHING STORE (except New Fall Garments) Is Offered at These Three Prices:

Which buys suits originally priced up to the above figures for a minute. Men who have be | Lots are not large, therefore be promptcome acquainted with the way we have conducted our Clothing Store of late will recognize the force of these reductions and realize the astonishing character of the values presented. For our original prices were low-often very low. Our $25 line of suits, for example, was fully as good as the $28.50 line of any other clothier in town-as good as the $30 line of several clothiers whose stock we examined. All that are left of these $25 suits are marked $9 to-morrow.

Which buys any suit in the store (Except new fall goods). Original prices as high as $25.

We had the best $15 and the best $10 sults in New York-we made especial efforts on both lines. The $15 suits can be had now for $6-what are left of them-and the $10 suits are marked to $4.

As to Sizes Sizes are of course more or less broken up, but we can fit anybody in the plain blue serge, black serge and black thibet, at $6 and $9, and almost anybody in the fancy cheviors and worsteds at all three prices. In the overplaids and striped worsteds suitable for early fall wear there is still excellent choosing and all sizes, though not all sizes in every pattern. (Siegel Cooper Store, Main Floor, Rear.)

Low Prices for Groceries That Are Safe

HE paying of low prices is not always economy. The quality of the goods offered must be carefully looked into. When a store offers goods at lower prices than we do, rest assured that quality or quantity is sacrificed. True economy can be had at the Siegel ooper Grocery. Nothing but standard, high-grade goods are carrie i—the safe an reliable kinds—and the lowest possible prices are charged. Have you tried our mail or telephone service for ordering your groceries? That's another economical feature of this Grocery Store, for you can order with perfect safety, just as if you came in person. Call 4000 Chelsea.
